REVISIONS TO THE CRLB STYLE SHEET (ED. 2012)

1. REFERENCES TO LITERATURE AND EXHIBITIONS

Following the decision of the Editorial Board, The Life of Christ before the Passion: The Youth of Christ (CRLB V, 1), published in 2014, was the first in the series to provide a fully abbreviated bibliography. The earlier volumes only provide a bibliography of frequently cited literature and exhibitions, titled 'Abbreviations'. This format has been revised, also in terms of lay-out.

1.1 Literature section

[1] General

One consistent mode of abbreviation should be applied to all the literature cited.

Formula: author's name (in roman type), title in shortened form (italicized), publication date (in roman type).

e.g. Jaffé, Catalogo, 1989
M. Jaffé, Rubens: Catalogo completo, Milan, 1989.

Logan – Haverkamp Begemann, Dessins, 1978
A.-M. Logan and E. Haverkamp Begemann, 'Dessins de Rubens', Revue de l'art, XLII, 1978, pp. 89–99.

[2] Multi-authored works

General:
Names of authors are given in the order they appear on the title page.

Works by two authors:
The names of the authors are separated by a spaced 'en rule' (short dash) in the abbreviation, and by the word 'and' in the full citation.

e.g. Renger – Schleif, Cat. Neuburg, 2005
K. Renger and N. Schleif, Staatsgalerie Neuburg an der Donau: Flämische Barockmalerei, Munich – Cologne, 2005.

The ways in which authors' names are rendered vary from book to book. Use 'with' (preceded by a comma) in the full citation in cases where additional statements like 'with', 'in collaboration with', 'mit', 'unter Mitarbeit von' etc. are stated on the title page. Statements like 'with an introductory essay by', 'with contributions by', 'mit Beitragen von' etc. should not be taken into account. Font and design of the title page, as well as the foreword can often help in understanding a given contribution.

e.g. Logan – Plomp, Drawings, 2005
A.-M. Logan, with M.C. Plomp, [Cat. Exh.] Peter Paul Rubens: The Drawings (The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, 2005), New Haven – London, 2005.

Meij – de Haan, Flemish Drawings, 2001
A.W.F.M. Meij, with M. de Haan, [Cat. Exh.] Rubens, Jordaens, Van Dyck and their Circle: Flemish Master Drawings from the Museum Boijmans Van Beuningen (Museum Boijmans van Beuningen, Rotterdam, 2001), Rotterdam, 2001.

Works by three or more authors:
In cases where there are more than two authors, the first author on the title page/in the colophon is listed with 'et al.' in the abbreviation. In order to avoid too long citations, the number of authors in the full citation is limited to three (exceptionally, four for the Van Dyck catalogue and all authors for CRLB volumes), then followed by 'et al.'.

e.g. Jaffé et al., Rubens, 2005
D. Jaffé, E. McGrath, M. Moore Ede et al., [Cat. Exh.] Rubens: A Master in the Making (The National Gallery, London, 2005–2006), London, 2005.

Barnes et al., Van Dyck, 2004
S. Barnes, N. De Poorter, O. Millar and H. Vey, Van Dyck: A Complete Catalogue of the Paintings, New Haven – London, 2004.

Van Puyvelde et al., Rubens, 1965
L. Van Puyvelde, L. Lebeer, A. Jansen et al., [Cat. Exh.] Le siècle de Rubens / De eeuw van Rubens (Musées royaux des Beaux-Arts de Belgique, Brussels, 1965), Brussels, 1965.

Baumstark et al., Liechtenstein, 1985
R. Baumstark, G.C. Bauman, K. Christiansen et al., [Cat. Exh.] Liechtenstein: The Princely Collections (The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, 1985–1986), New York, 1985.

When the number of authors is too great for all to be listed in the full reference, the works should be listed under the names of the editor(s). In this case the editor(s) will be identified as such, as ‘ed.’ or ‘eds’. The number of editors in the full citation is limited to three; otherwise use 'et al.'.

e.g. Bauman – Liedtke, eds, Flemish Painting, 1992
G.C. Bauman and W.A. Liedtke, eds, Flemish Painting in America: A Survey of Early Netherlandish and Flemish Paintings in the Public Collections of North America (Flandria extra muros), Antwerp, 1992.

Vlieghe et al., eds, Concept, Design & Execution, 2000
H. Vlieghe, A. Balis and C. Van de Velde, eds, Concept, Design & Execution in Flemish Painting (1550–1700) (Museums at the Crossroads, V), Turnhout, 2000.

[3] Author(s)/ editor(s) unknown

[3.1]
In cases where there is no obvious author/editor, do not use ‘[Anonymous]’. The work should be listed under the abbreviated title, followed by year of publication.

e.g. Auer, 1813
'Die Porzellan-Gemälde des Herrn Auer in München. Geschildert von einer Kunst-Freundin', Journal für Luxus, Mode und Gegenstände der Kunst, XXVIII, Munich, February 1813, pp. 103–111.

[3.2]
Multi-volume works: Do not use '[Anonymous]' in that type of publication. The work should be listed under the abbreviated title, followed by year of publication.

e.g. Historic Houses, 1892
Historic Houses of the United Kingdom: Descriptive, Historical, Pictorial, London, 1892.

[3.3]
Museum and exhibition catalogues: see below, §4 & 5

[4] Museum catalogues

Formula for the abbreviation: author's name (if known), Cat. followed by name of the city, followed by date of publication.

Use the native form of the place-name, in modern spelling, except in some cases where the English form can be retained (see Editorial Style Guide, [3.1]). The name will be that of the city at the period in question.

e.g. Burroughs, Cat. New York, 1922
B. Burroughs, The Metropolitan Museum of Art: Catalogue of the Paintings, New York, 1922.

Cat. Leningrad, 1958
Musée de l'Ermitage, Département de l'art occidental: Catalogues des peintures, II, Leningrad – Moscow, 1958.

Cat. St Petersburg, 1870
Ermitage Impérial: Catalogue de la galerie des tableaux, II: Les écoles germaniques, St Petersburg, 1870.

Cat. Edinburgh, 1997
The National Gallery of Scotland: Concise Catalogue of Paintings, Edinburgh, 1997.

de Pigage – von Mechel, Cat. Düsseldorf, 1778
N. de Pigage and C. von Mechel, La Galerie Électorale de Dusseldorff ou Catalogue raisonné et figuré de ses tableaux [….], I-II, Basel, 1778.

Subsequent citations of different museum catalogues at that time and place will have to use the suffix a, b, etc. (cf. exhibition catalogues).

Postal abbreviations for American/Australian states and Canadian provinces should not occur in the abbreviation.

In cases where it is not evident that the catalogue is on a collection's Flemish paintings, it might be useful to add between parentheses the name of the collection in question.

e.g. Requires no addition because the collection consists entirely of Flemish seventeenth-century painting:
Renger – Schleif, Cat. Neuburg, 2005

But

Liedtke, Cat. New York (Flemish Paintings), 1984
W.A. Liedtke, Flemish Paintings in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, 2 vols., New York, 1984.

Martin, Cat. London (Flemish School), 1970
G. Martin, The Flemish School, circa 1600–circa 1900 (The National Gallery Catalogues, 1), London, 1970.

[5] Catalogues of private and royal/princely collections

Formula for the abbreviation: author's name (if known), Cat. followed by name of the collection, followed by date of publication.

e.g. Wright, Cat. Schorr, 2014
C. Wright, [Coll. Cat.] The Schorr Collection of Old Masters and nineteenth-century Paintings, London, 2014.

Falke, Cat. Liechtenstein, 1885
J. Falke, Katalog der Fürstlich Liechtensteinischen Bilder-Galerie im Gartenpalais der Rossau zu Wien, Vienna, 1885.

[6] Exhibition catalogues

As before, there are two forms of citation of such items: a) for the Literature section and b) for the Exhibition section (see §1.2)

In the Literature section, cite the exhibition dates within brackets together with the exhibition details in the full citation, but use only the publication date for the abbreviation.

e.g. Kumazawa – Sato, eds, Master Drawings / Prints, 2008
H. Kumazawa and M. Sato, eds, [Cat. Exh.] The Connoisseur's Eye: Master Drawings and Prints from the Amsterdams Historisch Museum (Tokyo University of the Arts, University Art Museum, Tokyo; Huis ten Bosch Art Museum, Nagasaki, 2008–2009), Tokyo, 2008.

Where the exhibition catalogue has no obvious author(s), or when the number of authors is too great for all to be listed in the full reference, the work should be listed under the name(s) of the editor(s). See also §1.1 [2] as it applies to exhibition catalogues too.

e.g. Finckh – Hartje-Grave, eds, Rubens, 2012
G. Finckh and N. Hartje-Grave, eds, [Cat. Exh.] Peter Paul Rubens (Von der Heydt-Museum, Wuppertal, 2012–2013), Wuppertal, 2012.

Van Beneden, ed., Rubens in Private, 2015

B. van Beneden, ed., [Cat. Exh.] Rubens in Private: The Master Portrays his Family / Rubens privé: de meester portretteert zijn familie (Rubenshuis, Antwerp, 2015), Brussels, 2015.

Denys, ed., Grafiek, 1982
L. Denys, ed., [Cat. Exh.] Van plaat tot prent: grafiek uit stedelijk bezit, technisch benaderd (Stadsfeestzaal Meir, Antwerp, 1982), Antwerp, 1982.

Anonymous exhibition catalogues:
Where the exhibition catalogue has no obvious author(s) and editor(s), the work should be listed under the abbreviated title, followed by year of publication.

[7] Publications in multiple languages

[7.1] Books/catalogues published simultaneously (published in the same year and place)

If a book/catalogue is published simultaneously in more than one language, authors may choose the language they wish to use and abbreviate accordingly. But in the full reference, where there is an English title, this English version will be cited first, followed by the titles of the other language(s).

e.g. Belkin – Healy, House of Art, 2004
K. Lohse Belkin and F. Healy, [Cat. Exh.] A House of Art: Rubens as Collector / Een huis vol kunst: Rubens als verzamelaar (Rubenshuis, Antwerp, 2004), Schoten, 2004.

Belkin – Healy, Huis vol kunst, 2004
K. Lohse Belkin and F. Healy, [Cat. Exh.] A House of Art: Rubens as Collector / Een huis vol kunst: Rubens als verzamelaar (Rubenshuis, Antwerp, 2004), Schoten, 2004.

[7.2] Books/catalogues published in different place and/or year

If a book/catalogue is published in different languages, in different places and/or in different years, authors should only cite the edition that he/she used.

e.g. Rosenberg, Fragonard, 1987
P. Rosenberg, [Cat. Exh.] Fragonard (Galeries nationales du Grand Palais, Paris; The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, 1987-1988), Paris, 1987.

or

Rosenberg, Fragonard, 1988
P. Rosenberg, [Cat. Exh.] Fragonard (Galeries nationales du Grand Palais, Paris; The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, 1987–1988), New York, 1988.

[8] Works in languages with non Latin-based script

Where a publication is in a language with a non Latin-based script a short title is given in English in the abbreviation. The author's name and the title should be transliterated into Latin script.

In cases where there might be confusion over names, include both initials in the full citation.

e.g. Kuznetsov, Rubens' Drawings, 1974
J [Y]. Kuznetsov, Risunki Rubensa, Moscow, 1974.

Where the title on the title page is also given in Latin script, that title should be used for the abbreviation and the full reference. In cases where only the title is given in a language with Latin script, while the rest of the publication is in a language with non Latin script, the language of the publication should be added between square brackets after the title.

e.g. Kuznetsov, Master Drawings, 1981
J. [Y]. Kuznetsov, Dutch and Flemish Master Drawings [in Russian], Milan, 1981.

[9] Editions of old texts

Where the editor should be given credit, the abbreviation should reflect this.

e.g. Bellori, Vite, ed. Borea, 1976
G.P. Bellori, Le vite de' pittori, scultori e architetti moderni [Rome, 1672], ed. E. Borea, Turin, 1976.

Sandrart, Academie, ed. Peltzer, 1925
J. von Sandrart, Joachim von Sandrarts Academie der Bau-, Bild- und Mahlerey-Künste von 1675: Leben der berühmten Maler, Bildhauer und Baumeister [Nuremberg, 1675], ed. A.R. Peltzer, Munich, 1925.

Lomazzo, Scritti, ed. Ciardi, 1973–1975

Translations of old texts go under authors' names for published books (or manuscripts intended to be published).

e.g. Bellori, Lives, trans. Wohl et al., 2006

Modern editions of letters go under the name(s) of the editor(s). But published collections of letters such as those of Lipsius, published by him (or his mates) at the time, go under Lipsius.

e.g. Rooses – Ruelens, eds, Correspondance, 1887–1909
M. Rooses and C. Ruelens, eds, Correspondance de Rubens et documents épistolaires concernant sa vie et ses oeuvres, , I–VI, Antwerp, 1887–1909.

Magurn, ed., Letters, 1955
R.S. Magurn, ed., The Letters of Peter Paul Rubens, Cambridge, MA, 1955.

[10] Reviews

Do not try to cite the actual title given in the review (if there is one), but use the appropriate formula for abbreviating and citing book and exhibition reviews in full.

[10.1] Book reviews

Formula for the abbreviation: author's name, Review followed by name of author(s) reviewed, followed by year of publication of the review.

Formula for the full citation: author's name, [Review] 'author's name, title of the book reviewed (place, date of the book reviewed)', followed by publication data of the review.

e.g. Alpers, Review Held, 1982
S. Alpers, [Review] 'J.S. Held, The Oil Sketches of Peter Paul Rubens: A Critical Catalogue (Princeton, NJ, 1980)', Renaissance Quarterly, XXXV, 1982, pp. 113−117.

Logan, Review Held, 1983
A.-M. Logan, [Review] 'J.S. Held, The Oil Sketches of Peter Paul Rubens: A Critical Catalogue (Princeton, NJ, 1980)', Master Drawings, XXI, 1983, pp. 412–417.

Logan, Review Held, 1987
A.-M. Logan, [Review] 'J.S. Held, Rubens: Selected Drawings (Oxford, 1986)', Master Drawings, XXV, 1987, pp. 63–82.

Jaffé, Review Burchard – d'Hulst / Held, 1965
M. Jaffé, [Review] 'L. Burchard and R.-A. d'Hulst, Rubens Drawings (Brussels, 1963) and J.S. Held, Rubens: Selected Drawing (Oxford, 1959)', The Burlington Magazine, CVII, 1965, pp. 372–382.

But exception is made for CRLB:

e.g. Haskell, Review CRLB XIII, 1, 1998
F. Haskell, [Review] 'E. McGrath, Subjects from History (Corpus Rubenianum Ludwig Burchard, XIII, 1) (London, 1997)', The Burlington Magazine, CXL, 1998, pp. 42–43.

[10.2] Exhibition reviews

Formula for the abbreviation: author's name, Review Exh. followed by the place(s) of the exhibition, followed by year of publication of the review [not of the item being reviewed]. If shown in more than two locations, then only the first location will be given in the abbreviation, followed by 'etc.'.

Formula for the full citation: author's name, [Exh. Review] 'title of the exhibition reviewed (location(s) and year(s) of the exhibition)', followed by publication data of the review. If shown in more than three locations, then 'etc.' follows the third location in the full citation.

e.g. d'Hulst, Review Exh. Ottawa, 1969
R.-A. d'Hulst, [Review Exh.] 'Jacob Jordaens 1593–1678 (The National Gallery of Canada, Ottawa, 1968–1969)', The Art Bulletin, LI, 1969, pp. 378–388.

White, Review Exh. London, 2005
C. White, [Review Exh.] 'Rubens: A Master in the Making (The National Gallery, London, 2005–2006)', The Burlington Magazine, CXLVII, 2005, pp. 836–837.

Kowalczyk, Review Exh. Montreal – Portland, 2014
B.A. Kowalczyk, [Review Exh.] 'Splendore a Venezia: Art and Music from the Renaissance to the Baroque in the Serenissima' (Montreal Museum of Fine Arts, Montreal, ON; Portland Art Museum, Portland, OR, 2013–2014)', The Burlington Magazine, CLVI, 2014, pp. 137–138.

Renger, Review Exh. London – Cologne, 1978
K. Renger, [Review Exh.] 'Rubens: Drawings and Sketches / Peter Paul Rubens (The British Museum, London; Kunsthalle, Cologne, 1977)', Kunstchronik, XXXI, 1978, pp. 133-147.

Jaffé, Review Exh. Padua etc., 1990
M. Jaffé, [Review Exh.] 'Pietro Paulo Rubens (1577-1640) (Palazzo della Ragione, Padua; Palazzo delle Esposizioni, Rome; Società per le Belle Arti ed Esposizione Permanente, Milan, 1990)', The Burlington Magazine, CXXXII, 1990, pp. 657–660.

But exception is made for:

e.g. Logan, Review Rubens Exhibitions, 1977
A.-M. Logan, [Review Exh.] 'Rubens Exhibitions 1977', Master Drawings, XV, 1977, pp. 403–417.

Logan, Review Rubens Exhibitions, 1978
A.-M. Logan, [Review Exh.] 'Rubens Exhibitions 1977-78', Master Drawings, XVI, 1978, pp. 419–450.

1.2 Exhibitions section

[1] General

One consistent mode of abbreviation should be applied to all the exhibitions cited in the Exhibited section of the catalogue entries. The abbreviation includes the place(s) and year(s) of the exhibition. The type should be set in roman.

e.g. Lens, 2013
L'Europe de Rubens, Musée du Louvre-Lens, Lens, 2013.

Liverpool – London, 1998–99
Mantegna to Rubens: The Weld-Blundell Drawings Collection, Walker Art Gallery, Liverpool; The British Museum, London, 1998–1999.

[2] More than three locations

In cases where the exhibition has taken place in more than three locations only the first location will be given in the abbreviation, followed by 'etc.'. If shown in more than three locations, then 'etc.' follows the third location in the full citation.

e.g. Tokyo etc., 1985–86
Pierre Paul Rubens (1577–1640), Galerie d'Art Tokyo Takashimaya, Tokyo; Musée Préfectoral d'Art de Yamaguchi, Yamaguchi; Musée Préfectoral d'Art de Mie, Tsu; etc., 1985–1986.

[3] Same city same year

Where there is more than one exhibition in a given city in any year, the first example cited (by any author in the Corpus from 2014 on) uses the formula: city, date; but subsequent citations of different exhibitions at that time and place will have to use the suffix a, b, etc. [This will mean that the bibliographies in some Corpus volumes in the future may have, for example, Antwerp, 1977b, and nothing else for that year.]

2. REFERENCES TO INTERNET RESOURCES

Wherever possible, references to material consulted through internet resources should be accompanied by standard references.

References to the resources themselves should be kept as brief as possible. In general, the location of online resources should be given either by DOI (Digital Object Identifier) or by URL (Universal Resource Locator), but not both.
DOIs are analogous to ISBNs for books. A DOI is a permanent ID that, when appended to http://dx.doi.org/ in the address bar of an Internet browser, will lead to the source. If a DOI is available, it should always be cited.
URLs are the addresses used by web browsers. Properly, they can refer not only to regular and authenticated web pages (with prefix 'http://' and 'https://') but also files on FTP servers ('ftp://'). When citing a URL, give the shortest appropriate form.
A date of access should always be given when quoting a DOI/URL, for example '[accessed 10 August 2015]'.

Since texts and images which are published on the internet are liable to be edited or replaced over time, authors are asked to ensure that references to them are correct at the time the Corpus volume goes to press.

2.1 Electronic versions of manuscripts and (early) printed books

[1] Manuscripts

Where a manuscript has been quoted, the appropriate full archive reference and folio number must be given in addition to the online reference, listing 'Retrieved from', title of the database or website, place of publication/administration, date of publication (and/or date of update/revision if found), DOI or URL of the resource in angle brackets and the date at which the database was consulted in square brackets.

e.g. Oxford, Bodleian Library, MS Bodley 264, fol. 74v. Retrieved from Oxford Digital Library: Celtic and Medieval Manuscripts or 'Early Manuscripts at Oxford University', Oxford, 1995–2000, updated in 2006, <URL: http://image.ox.ac.uk/show?collection=bodleian&manuscript=msbodl264> [accessed 28 September 2015]

Point to note: references to manuscripts should not appear in the Bibliography.

[2] Early printed books (printed before 1800) and existing printed publications

Where an (early) printed book has been quoted, the appropriate publication reference must be given in addition to the online reference, listing 'Retrieved from', title of the database or website, place of publication/administration, date of publication (and/or date of update/revision if found), DOI or URL of the resource in angle brackets and the date at which the database was consulted in square brackets.

e.g. Palladio, Architettura, 1581
A. Palladio, I quattro libri dell'architettura […], Venice, 1581. Retrieved from Heidelberger historische Bestände – digital: Bücher zur Architektur und Gartenkunst, Heidelberg, updated in 2015, <URL: http://digi.ub.uni-heidelberg.de/diglit/palladio1581> [accessed 28 September 2015]

Where a database is in a language with a non Latin-based script, its title should be transliterated into Latin script.

2.2 Articles in online journals/publications

As far as possible, follow the style used for printed publications as detailed above and in the CRLB Style Sheet (ed. 2012). In the full reference the publication details should be followed by the online information, in the following order: full address (DOI or URL of the resource) in angle brackets and the date at which the resource was consulted in square brackets.

e.g. Libby, Triumph of the Eucharist, 2015
A. Libby, 'The Solomonic Ambitions of Isabel Clara Eugenia in Rubens's The Triumph of the Eucharist Tapestry Series', JHNA – Journal of Historians of Netherlandish Art, 7, 2, 2015, <DOI: 10.5092/jhna.2015.7.2.4> [accessed 7 August 2015]

Vandenbroeck, Solomonic Column, 2014
P. Vandenbroeck, 'The Solomonic Column: a Rubenesque Motif in the Light of Tradition', Rubensbulletin, 5, 2014, pp. 25–91, <URL: http://www.kmska.be/export/sites/kmska/content/Documents/Onderzoek/Rubensbulletin_2014_Vandenbroeck_FINAL2lr.pdf> [accessed 10 August 2015]

Etheridge – Gritt, Old Woman, 2013
C. Etheridge and S. Gritt, 'Head of an Old Woman', in C. Etheridge and S. Gritt, [online Cat. Exh.] Masterpiece in Focus: Rubens, Van Dyck, Jordaens / Comprendre nos chefs-d'œuvre: Rubens, Van Dyck, Jordaens (National Gallery of Art, Ottawa, ON, 2013), Ottawa, 2013, n. pag., <URL: http://www.gallery.ca/rubens/en/11.htm> [accessed 27 July 2015]

Aldrovandi, Delle statue, ed. Daly Davis, 2009
U. Aldrovandi, 'Tutte le statue antiche, che in Roma in diversi luoghi […]', in L. Mauro, Le antichità della città di Roma […] [Venice, 1562, pp. 115–315], ed. M. Daly Davis, Heidelberg, 2009, Fontes – E-Quellen und Dokumente zur Kunst 1350–1750 / E-Sources and Documents for the History of Art 1350–1750, 29, 2009, <URL: http://archiv.ub.uni-heidelberg.de/artdok/volltexte/2009/704/> [accessed 1 September 2015]

Where section numbers or numbered paragraphs appear in the original document, they can be used in foot/endnotes to give the location of a citation.

e.g. Libby, Triumph of the Eucharist, 2015, para. 8, fig. 4.

2.3 Unique electronic publications in online databases

Online databases may provide collections of electronic versions of existing printed publications (see §2.1), or they may be unique electronic publications.

[1] Reference to an article

Formula: author's name, 'title', in database's name, place of publication/administration, date of publication (and/or date of update/revision if found), followed by DOI or URL of the resource) in angle brackets the date at which the database was consulted in square brackets.

e.g. Liedtke, Paintings, 2003
W. Liedtke, 'Peter Paul Rubens (1577–1640) and Anthony van Dyck (1599–1641): Paintings', in Heilbrunn Timeline of Art History, New York, 2003, <URL: http://www.metmuseum.org/toah/hd/rvd_p/hd_rvd_p.htm> [accessed 14 August 2015]

[2] Reference to an entry

Do not try to cite the actual title given on the website (if there is one), but use the appropriate formula.

Formula for the 'title' of the entry:
'artist's name: title of the artwork (inventory number)'

e.g. Ascent to Calvary, 2008
[Anonymous], 'Peter Paul Rubens and studio: The ascent to Calvary (163)', in Rubens Database, Brussels, 2008, <URL: http://rubens.fine-arts-museum.be/en/F_database.htm> [accessed 14 August 2015]

3. REFERENCES TO PREVIOUSLY CITED PUBLICATIONS IN THE NOTES

Now that we have a comprehensive system of abbreviation we no longer need and should not use the old formula of 'as in note x', to refer to a previously cited publication. Instead the abbreviation will be repeated.

In addition:

[1] 'loc. cit.' and 'op. cit.'

The expressions 'loc. cit.' and 'op. cit.' should not be used.

[2] 'Ibid.'

‘Ibid.’ should be used only for a reference to the same publication in the same footnote.

[3] Cross-references

When referring to an argument outlined in an earlier note in a different entry, use ‘see No. 00, n. 00’.

But to refer to a note within an entry/essay, use ‘see above/below, n. 00’.
